

Bruyn Memorial Dedicated Sunday

Litany Desk Presented to St. John's Episcopal Church in Memory of the Late Charles D. Bruyn and His Wife.

A very special interest attached to the morning service at St. John's Episcopal Church, Albany avenue, on Sunday, June 24, when a beautifully carved oak litany desk presented to St. John's Parish by the Bruyn family, "To the Glory of God and in Loving Memory of"

CHARLES DE WITT BRUYN

was formally dedicated in the presence of the children and grandchildren of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bruyn. Mr. Bruyn was for years the honored senior warden of St. John's Church when it stood on Wall street, and all of his family were devoted communicants of the church.

The special service program was as follows:

Processional: "Christ Is Made the Sure Foundation".....Smart Venite, Chant in D.....Walter Benedictus Es Domine, in C minor.....Robinson Benedictus, Chant in D flat.....Noble Hymn: "All Things Are Thine".....Beethoven Dedication of Memorial Litany Desk Additional Prayers Hymn—"Hark, Hark, My Soul!" (two verses).....Dykes Sermon—"The Spiritual Body".....Rev. W. Poyntell Kemper, rector Anthem—"How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings Fair".....Sphor Recessional—"Lead Us, Heavenly Father, Lead Us".....Cantus Diversi

An Impressive Sermon.

In his impressive sermon, Rector Kemper presented the thought, not of a flimsy, vapory unreal life of those who have gone before us, but a real, living vital personality which is not and never has been dependent upon the physical body, through which it has been and does express itself. As honor, righteousness, fellowship, love, faith, sympathy, conscience, truth, goodness, peace are real beyond any possibility of a doubt, so the preacher told his people the coming into closer relationship, understanding of and living in companionship with Christ, will make possible in a real, thoughtful spiritual sense the personal, individual spiritual resurrection body beyond the confines and limits of the human body, as we know it. As others, those in whose loving memory the dedication service had been held, and all of our loved ones who have passed beyond our vision, have grown into their spiritual, but real life, so Rector Kemper hoped that all within the sound of his voice might have it given to them by God to begin now to grow that spiritual body of the future, to have a discernment of the spiritual life, and above all to know the reality of divine things in Christ.

The beautiful litany desk that was dedicated was designed by the architect, Percy Fowler, and the design was exquisitely carried out in carving by Mr. Maene, who came from Belgium to this country.

The members of the Bruyn family who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeWitt Bruyn and daughters, Mary and Ellen of Englewood, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bruyn and sons, Henry Junior and Arvid of Garden City; Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Hupp (formerly Miss Lily Bruyn); Mr. and Mrs. L. E. White (formerly Miss Jessie Bruyn); daughters, Alice and Jane, and sons, Charles and George; and Miss Rebecca Bruyn of New York city.

Predicts Great "Dry" Battle

Houston, June 23 (AP).—The floor of the Democratic convention was portrayed today by Mrs. Clem L. Shaver, wife of the chairman of the Democratic national committee, as the arena in which the "great battle between the wets and the dries must be fought to a finish."

She declared every Democratic and Republican voter "knows there is no such thing as harmony in the Democratic party," and she added, "there never can be harmony so long as certain wet elements in the party clamor for supremacy, though so clearly in the minority."

Addressing a meeting of the National Woman's Committee for Law Enforcement, Mrs. Shaver said the battle "is to be fought to the finish between the wet violators and nullifiers on the one hand, and dry patriotic upholders of the Constitution on the other."

Without mentioning any names, she contended that "at Houston there can be no harmony if a wet nullifier is nominated," for "it means just one thing—a bitter fight, complete lack of harmony and a triumphant victory for the Republican ticket, and millions of dry Democrats who decide to do all in their power to help the Republicans win."

Mrs. Shaver asked if the women of the Democratic party were going to vote to put in the White House "any man with a dripping wet record, a saloon man, any nullifier inevitably associated with organized vice because he is a 'saloon man'?"

"What sort of a president do we want in the White House anyway?" she continued. "Do we want a wet or a 'fifty-fifty,' or an evader of the Constitution, a saloon man, or an insincere so-called 'law enforcement' bird, who knows when he promises to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment he does not mean it but is pleading himself to a lie."

"By no means," she went on and determined to have a man for president whose very name will be guarantee that the Eighteenth Amendment will be rigidly enforced."

Raised Rumpus at Salvation Army

Michael Goodwin of Carnival Company Smashed Window in Army Barracks—Several Other Cases Before Judge Shufeldt.

Michael Goodwin, a member of the carnival company who played Mutton Hollow last week, entered the Salvation Army headquarters on Sunday morning and fell asleep. When he awoke he proved pugnacious and picking up a chair wrecked one of the large windows in the building. A hurry call was sent to police headquarters and Goodwin was arrested. This morning in police court Judge Shufeldt fined him $10 and unable to pay, Goodwin was remanded to the county jail.

John Wilson, arrested for public intoxication on the Strand on Sunday, was given a suspended sentence.

Earl Carnright, arrested early this morning for prowling around the streets, was given a suspended sentence.

George Daier, arrested for public intoxication Sunday, was given a suspended sentence.

Arthur Hinckley, arrested Saturday afternoon for public intoxication, was given a suspended sentence.

Halsey Sheffield of Ridgewood, N. J., arrested for speeding, forfeited $15 cash bail for failure to appear.

Philip Fitzpatrick, a stranger, arrested on North Front street for public intoxication, was fined $5. He paid his fine out of the $5 he had left when arrested.

Henry Lee, a negro, arrested for making a nuisance of himself at a lunch room on Broadway, was given a suspended sentence.

STOLEN CAR CRASHED INTO ANOTHER CAR

Sunday morning about 2 o'clock while Fred W. Rudolph of Hastings was driving over the Boulevard, near the Walkill Valley crossing, his car was struck in the rear by a Ford coupe. Rudolph stopped his car and he and his friend, Peter L. Ritzheimer, walked back to the Ford and found the occupants had disappeared. They waited for half an hour but no one showed up, and Ritzheimer got into the Ford and drove it to police headquarters.

An hour or so later Nicholas V. Brophy, of 25 Taylor street, reported to the police that his Ford coupe had been stolen from the Boulevard. He was informed that the car was at the police garage where he could obtain it.

LITTLE BOY HIT BY AUTOMOBILE SUNDAY

Robert Ortlieb, three years old, of 16 Spruce street, was struck by an automobile driven by Jennie Gallo way of Newburgh on Sunday and injured about the legs. According to the report made to the police she was driving on Abel street and when near Block Park the little boy ran across the road in front of the car. He was hurried to the Benedictine Hospital where it was found he had sustained scratches on both legs and knees.

Reed and Roper In Conference

Drive to Halt Smith's Nomination Was Understood to Have Been Gone Over in Detail—Reed Dry Statement Heaters Smith Foes.

Houston, June 23 (AP).—Heard by the prohibition pronouncement of Senator Reed of Missouri, the anti-Smith forces were feverishly rounding up their troops today after perfecting an organization at a series of secret Sunday conferences.

Daniel C. Roper, of South Carolina, one of the supporters of William Gibbs McAdoo in the memorable 1924 campaign, was revealed as leader of the southern dry hopefuls mobilizing alongside the Missouri senator, who has held the trenches so far against the swelling tide of Smith delegates.

Reed held an hour's conference early this morning with Roper at which the drive to halt Smith's nomination was understood to have been gone over in detail. Although there was no announcement of any conclusions it was apparent that no disagreement existed between the two.

Earlier in the night the Missouri senator had set the prohibition fires burning with a statement that the "eighteenth amendment will stand until and unless the moral forces of the nation become convinced that there is some better way of dealing with the liquor problem." This quickly won the attention of the dry forces.

Roper's Announcement.

A few hours later the southerner was at work. After a brief night conference, Mr. Roper, who has been quietly conferring with many factions since Friday, made the following announcement:

"The elements of this convention which are convinced of the necessity of saving the Democratic party from nullification of the eighteenth amendment, and from Tammany control of the Federal government, are in agreement upon the course of procedure to be followed in the fight."

"The course of procedure" of the "elements" involved was not disclosed by the former internal revenue commissioner who named a steering committee representing each faction having a candidate, other than Smith, in the field.

Anti-Smith Messengers Busy.

Confidences were expressed that the necessary one-third vote of the convention—367—was available to stop Smith, but there were no figures and with many a state delegation preparing for caucuses today which will determine the course of their first votes, the anti-Smith group was sending messengers about the headquarters at a merry clip.

While Senator Reed has given the word to his Missouri delegation that they are not to fight any one candidate but are to work only for their own goal, his prohibition statement was regarded hopefully both by his own men and some of the "die-hard" anti-Smith folk, as the bridge making possible a coordination between all elements opposed to the New York governor.

Bend Efforts to Stop Smith.

So far it appears to be the strategy of the band of southerners, who are understood to be counting strong on the support of Governor Moody of Texas, to have votes kept in line for Representative Hull, of Tennessee. Senator George of Georgia, Evans Woolen of Indiana, and other favorite sons. No one man has been determined upon as their candidate. All attention now is centered on stopping Smith.

Over 60 Injured In Train Wreck

Toia, Kansas, June 23 (AP).—Upwards of 60 persons were injured, several probably fatally, when three cars of the Missouri-Pacific passenger train running from New Orleans to Kansas City, were derailed near Durand, 16 miles west of here, at 4 a. m.

Thirty injured were brought to a hospital here where the condition of 15 was announced as critical. Physicians held little hope for the recovery of three or four of the injured. Two pupils and a chair car were overturned and badly smashed.

All available ambulances and doctors were pressed into service to bring the injured here.

Cause of the derailment had not been determined.

Senator Gooding Is Dead.

Gooding, Idaho, June 23 (AP).—Death has terminated the second term of Senator Frank R. Gooding of Idaho. The junior Republican senator from Idaho died yesterday at the home of his daughter in the little town he founded and which bears his name. He came here to rest after an operation the fore part of this month. He had not been in the best of health since contracting influenza at Washington last December. Death was attributed to cancer of the intestines.

Excelsior Hose Band Concerts.

Unless weather conditions interfere the Excelsior Hose Company brass and reed band will give the first of their series of free Tuesday evening concerts, to continue during the summer, on the upper balcony of the club house of Kingston Lodge, No. 559, B. P. O. E., on Fair street, opposite Firemen's Hall.

Baccalaureate Sermon to High School Graduates

The Rev. George L. Withey Delivers Foreword Address on What the Older Generation Expects of Young Men and Women—Stresses Opportunities of Young People.

The baccalaureate sermon and accompanying service for the graduating class of Kingston High School, 1923, was one of the most devotional and spiritually challenging ever attended by a graduating class of an academic school commencement since such exercises have been held in Kingston. There was an unusually large number of the pastors of the city churches on the platform and the musical part of the program was full of quiet religious inspiration.

The sermon by the Rev. George L. Withey, pastor of the Trinity M. E. Church, was such a rousing appeal of youth to youth as must have made a lasting impression and stirred high ambitions in the hearts of the graduates and made those of more mature years who were present in large numbers, feel that it was indeed a case of "Let no man despise thy youth," as surely no man could.

Principal Van Lagen acted as master of ceremonies. As the large graduating class marched to the seats reserved for them, Superintendent (Michael) H. H. Flemming, president of the board of education; the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, the Rev. J. W. Tedley, the Rev. Charles G. Ellis, the Rev. F. W. Moot, and the Rev. W. F. Stowe, the Rev. George L. Withey, the Rev. Gregory Mabry filed onto the platform.

The invocation, pronounced by the Rev. F. W. Moot, was followed by the singing of the hymn, "Now the day is ended," led by a choir of young people, who had been trained by Leonard H. Stine, superintendent of music.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Arthur S. Cole after which a hush of appreciation fell upon the large audience as a violin solo was played by Mr. Stine with a beauty of tone and truthfulness of interpretation that was an inspiration and refreshment.

The Scripture lesson, taken from the second chapter of the second book of Kings and including the fifteen verses, was read by the Rev. Gregory Mabry and told the story of Elijah and Elisha.

An anthem sung by the choir offered a fitting musical prelude to the sermon which followed.

Pastor Withey's Sermon.

The Rev. Mr. Withey took for his text that part of the Scripture lesson which read, "And it came to pass, when they were gone over, that Elisha said unto Elisha, Ask what I shall do for thee before I be taken away from thee. And Elisha said, I pray thee let a double portion of thy spirit be upon me. And he said, Thou hast asked a hard thing; nevertheless, if thou see me when I am taken from thee, it shall be so unto thee."

It was, as the speaker said, an ambitious request. In order that his hearers might recall who made the request, and of whom it was made, Mr. Withey told of the fearless but weird life and character of the prophet Elijah, for whom Moses and Samuel and later Christ and John the Baptist were taken. His life had held occasional failures due to his limited understanding of the divine activity. Yet Elijah based his belief in God on no hearsay, nor on the past history of his people but upon his own knowledge of the Great Unseen, the awfulness of God's power, His tremendous plan for the world, His overwhelming God upon the mountain He heard God's voice not in the whirlwind or fire, but in the still small voice which bespoke a new dispensation. At that time Elijah received his honorable dismissal as the prophet whose dynamic opposition had overcome the supporters of Baal.

Elisha was the companion and pupil of Elijah, whom the speaker considered as probably not a very companionable man. Elisha belonged to a different generation from Elisha, a generation whose outlook was almost cyclopic. Elisha was quiet, patient, kindly, knowing God as a kindly father doing good to his children. Doubtless their experiences together were none too happy, though very useful to Elisha, upon whose shoulders Elijah's mantle was to be worn.

The "Old Religion."

And yet, when asked what he would have Elisha do for him before he left him, Elisha answered that he wished for a double portion of Elijah's spirit. It was the one thing he could ask for, for he could not ask for Elijah's religious experience—Elijah's God of battles and awful power was non-existent to Elisha. Elisha's generation saw differently from Elisha's generation, the former mistaking the eternal spirit for the eternal expression of God's spirit in all life, religious, economic, political, social. Mr. Withey counted the "Old Religion," for which so many of us long today, as good only if it was far older than we mean by the expression. It is not an "Old Religion" that we need today but the everlasting and eternal in the new religion of our own time as in Elisha's time.

What the World Expects.

Mr. Withey told the graduates that the men of his generation were their Elijahs and they were expecting from the coming generation of Elishas a finer world, a foreknowledge of new life, and had confidence that

Early Ballot, Says Negro Held for Smith Supporters

No Statements From Headquarters of Governor Smith Forces Will Be Augmented By Several Hundred Today.

Houston, June 23 (AP). Making little noise, but evidently expecting much, leaders of the Smith forces today on the eve of the opening of the Democratic convention apparently were awaiting only the balloting signal.

No statements, except in the most general terms, were to be had from Smith headquarters. It was no secret that friends of the New York governor expected his nomination on an early ballot. How early none in authority would say. Privates in the ranks were not willing to go beyond the third roll call. The men who will direct the Smith strategy said it would come on an early ballot and refused to add to the prediction.

New Yorkers Are Loquacious.

On subjects outside of politics the New York leaders were almost loquacious. George W. Olvany showed no unwillingness to talk of his golf game, if any, and Franklin R. Roosevelt sat in his 13th floor hotel room to chat of the charm of Warm Springs, Ga., as he nursed his strength for the speech nominating Smith. Justice Joseph M. Proskauer strolled about the lobby of the Rice Hotel renewing the lobby of the Rice Hotel renewing the lobby of the Rice Hotel.

George R. Van Name, manager of the New York governor's pre-convention activities, continued his daily conferences with newspapermen, but his chief topic of conversation seemed to be about Houston's weather.

The Smith forces were to be augmented by several hundred recruits today, but the latest arrivals were not expected to add to the crop of information from the Smith camp. Even Mayor James J. Walker, due shortly after noon, it was suggested, would fall in line with the quarantine against conversation concerning the governor. Mrs. Alfred E. Smith and four of the five Smith children will reach Houston late this afternoon, soon after several hundred other New York and New England Smith boosters.

Silent On Running Mate.

Efforts to learn the preference of Smith's friends for a running mate for their candidate, if he is nominated, got nowhere. "Our candidate is for president," is the stock reply.

The New York delegation, meeting tonight, will name its representatives on the convention committee. Mrs. Caroline O'Day of Rye, vice chairman of the Democratic State committee, will act as chairman of the biggest delegation in the convention.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, although not a delegate, may take a seat in the convention and serve on the committee.

Strategy on the Smith pre-convention movement has indicated that New York's first thought is the candidacy of Governor Smith and no big part was expected from his representative in building the platform. The New York delegate, however, will be able to say if proposed planks confirm with the position of his delegation.

Is Charged With Two Burglaries

Frank Sessler of 11 Mill street was arrested early Sunday morning by the police who charged him with committing two burglaries on Mill street in entering the places of D. Healey at Mill and Ann streets and Louis Roberts on Mill street. Sessler is being held to await a hearing in police court.

Sessler is accused of breaking into both places Saturday night by removing a glass in a door, unhooking the door and entering, helping himself to what cash he could find. It is said that about $15.00 was obtained from both places. The arrest of Sessler was made by Officer Keresman.

NORRIS EXPECTED TO RECOVER IN 40 DAYS.

Rome, June 23 (AP).—General Umberto Nobile, injured when the dirigible Italia crashed on the Polar ice, has a fractured shin and a contusion on his back. His recovery is expected in forty days. An official medical bulletin issued today said his injuries were:

"Incomplete fractured right shin bone, nose healing, dislocation of right foot and tendon torn. Also heavy contusion lower right back with abundant hemorrhage. He will probably recover in about forty days."

ATTEMPT MADE TO ENTER GREENWALD'S SHOE STORE.

It was reported to the police this morning that an attempt had been made to enter the Greenwald shoe store at Broadway and Abel street.

A screen had been removed from a rear window and a would-be thief had then broken in the window with a large hammer. The hammer had slipped from his grasp and fallen inside the store and the thief had evidently been frightened away before entering. As far as known nothing was taken from the store.

Man Killed When Car Turns Turtle

Auto Follows Remarkable Course Near Station When Girl Operates Loose Control—Another Occupant May Have Internal Injuries.

Harry Conner, 37 years old, of 101 E. 10th street, Brooklyn, was killed Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock when a Standard Victoria in which he was riding overturned on its side on a street near the Brooklyn Bridge, and the car turned turtle.

The wife is at the City of Kingston Hospital where her condition today was reported as very comfortable under the circumstances.

According to the story as obtained by the police, Mrs. Kelley had left her husband and had come to Kingston about a week ago to visit a woman friend. She returned home a few days ago, but remained only a brief time, returning to Kingston Kelley came to Kingston searching for his wife and met her on the street when she told him she was doing the cooking for some negroes residing at 65 Murray street.

A short time later Kelley went to the house and accused his wife of being on too familiar terms with Frank McCarty, another negro, and then drawing his razor, it is alleged that he started to slice her.

Then he told the other men in the house to call the police, which was done. The wife was removed to the hospital and Kelley was taken to police headquarters, where he was questioned and then removed to the county jail.

Mrs. Kelley was bleeding profusely from her many wounds. She had been cut on the face, head and body, and it required many stitches for the wounds to be sewed by Dr. Frank A. Johnston, who attended her.

McCarty and two other negroes, Raymond Newbold and David Gulls, who the police found in the house, were also locked up in jail as material witnesses.

A charge of assault in the first degree has been lodged against Kelley, who will be held to await the outcome of his wife's injuries.

Nobile Tells Of His Rescue

(By General Umberto Nobile.)

Base Ship Citta Di Milano, Virgo Bay, Spitzbergen, June 25. (via Stefani Agency, Rome). (AP).—When yesterday morning Lieutenant Lundborg landed near our tent I told him he ought to take off Cecconi on his first flight, then Behounek, then Triano, then me, then Viglieri and Biagi.

Lundborg refused. He told me he had received orders to take me off immediately, for I could give directions for searching for the others.

He insisted firmly, and my comrades also insisted firmly that I should leave first and that I would make them more tranquil for every eventuality. So I was forced to yield against the dictates of my heart and also to avoid delay.

At the time the plane departed Cecconi was well. I turned over direction of the group to Viglieri.

I hope to embrace them soon and I hope divine providence will allow me to see again the others.

Aids in Search.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 25 (AP).—General Umberto Nobile today was aboard the base ship Citta Di Milano at Virgo Bay recovering from injuries sustained when the dirigible Italia crashed on the Polar ice cap on May 2.

Soon after he was rescued from an ice floe by a Swedish flyer, Nobile was aiding in the search for his missing comrades of the Italia with his advice and knowledge of ice conditions.

He hoped to lead an air expedition to search for seven men who drifted to the eastward in the balloon part of the dirigible after the crash. He is not expected to recover from his injuries for a month, however, and in the meantime plans are being made to search for these men under his direction.

Aside from those in the balloon part of the Italia the searching parties were anxious to trace three members of the crew who were with Nobile but who have been missing since May 20 when they started aloft for land.

A Swedish plane equipped with skis made a landing near Nobile's camp on the ice near Fogn Island, a feat which the Italian rescue flyers here had thought impossible. A little later the plane took off with the injured leader, leaving his five companions still stranded on the ice.

RUSSIAN AVIATORS SAID TO BE NEAR AMUNDSEN

London, June 25 (AP).—An exchange telegram dispatch from Paris quotes the newspaper L'Information as publishing a report from Moscow that the Russian biplane Krassin is in communication with Rold Amundsen and his five companions missing in a French seaplane.

The dispatch said that Russian aviators would attempt to rescue the men with a Junkers plane which is aboard the icebreaker.

The Krassin sailed from Bergen for Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, last week and was to cover virtually the same route which Amundsen had planned to follow.

Amundsen was accompanied by Lieutenant Lief Dietrichsen, Norwegian explorer, and four French naval aviators under the command of Rene Guilbaud, noted flier.

Little Boy Bitten.

It was reported to the police Saturday evening that Clifford Raut, 11, of 33 Ponckhockie street, had been bitten by a dog owned by William Hutton of 45 Ponckhockie street. The wound was dressed by Dr. Eastman.

Three Hurt as Car Struck Tree

Atsigen Manfro of 41 East Strand, Miss Catherine Rafferty of 84 German street and Miss Anna Coughlin of 153 Hunter street were injured about 1:50 o'clock Sunday morning when the car they were riding in collided with a tree on Broadway near the St. Anne Home. According to the report made to the police, Joseph Sosta, John Boickno, Louis Ross and another man, all of Poughkeepsie, were driving down Broadway and had turned their car into the driveway leading to St. Anne's Home in order to turn around and drive back up Broadway.

The car driven by Manfro was also coming down Broadway and in some manner left the road and crashed into the tree, wrecking the car. Sosta and Boickno picked up the man and the two young women and hurried them to the City of Kingston Hospital where it was found Manfro had sustained a cut on his arm, the Rafferty girl had two fingers injured and the Coughlin girl had a cut on her right hand.

Satin Is Popular for Sports Wear

Washable Material Fresh in Appearance and Combines With Colors.

The sports costumes are becoming increasingly important as summer arrives. There is, of course, a similarity in styles year in and year out in the sports mode, as they always possess a simplicity of design and harmoniously detailed effectiveness. Accessories in general achieve the new look. This year finds the kerchief prominent in creating a different aspect. The neckline in general is varied and round, V, square, crew and baby cut necks are seen.

One-piece dresses for tennis with long pleated variety and fullness, short sleeves and rather deep-cut backs are seen rather prominently. The two-piece dress is always popular and the belted costumes are new versions of the chic sports clothes. Skirts are pleated in the front, generally, and plain in back. Some few possess a plain cut with but a single deep pleat on the left side. The cardigan sports are as popular as ever. These may include a combination of materials and generally the dress is of silk and the cardigan jacket of a silk and wool, all wool, jersey or heavy silk fabric. White washable satin is proving exceptionally popular in sports costumes. It is very fresh in appearance and also is delightfully combined with colors in kerchiefs, sash effects, collars or belts.

Doris Dawson, featured motion picture player, very youthful and charming in "The Little Shepherd in Kingdom Come" is shown wearing a stunning sports costume of new lines and new ideas. It is of white washable satin showing detachable collar and cuffs of cherry-red velvet for contrast, as well as the same shade of red felt to complete a smart appearance.

Coat Frocks of Crepe Are Offered by Paris

Coat frocks are again shown by Paris for his latest offering in the de chic mode, notes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times. One of his designs is a one-piece frock of black crepe figured with small flowers of yellow, red and pink. The top is plain, having a yoke finished with data covering plaits in which the top is laid, back and front. Deep lines of black satin taper to a point at the waistline, where they overlap, the bottom of the frock. Pocket flaps and narrow cut bands are also made of the satin and the belt is of finished black leather.

Face Frocks, Tailored Lines, Paris Fashion

A new type of face dress appears in the Paris summer style collections. It is made along lines as tailored as a serge business dress, although the material may be flimsy and chiffon.

Black lace is the favorite, but some use much dark blue and some gold. It is all-over braid design on tulle is form of lace much used for afternoon dresses. Cere lace lends itself to simple tailored lines. It is usually bound with crepe satin.

Matters Before The Surrogate

In the surrogate's court, letters of administration de bonis non have been issued to Florence Hallock in the estate of George W. Hallock of the town of Marlborough. Value of estate not heretofore administered, $8,000 real. D. W. Woolsey, attorney for petitioner.

Scotland Yard probing Leviathan mail robbery. London, June 25 (P).—Scotland Yard today was investigating the Leviathan mail robbery, which may reach $300,000, with the possibility that the robbery was committed either on the voyage, while the mails were at Southampton or were en route thence to London.

STONE RIDGE P-T. A. PICNIC WAS A GALA EVENT

In spite of the rainy weather of last week, the Stone Ridge Parent-Teacher Association held its picnic for the school children and their parents on Friday afternoon, June 22. As it was too wet out of doors, the people gathered at the Grange Hall, where a lively time was had from 1 until 4 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Smith and the Rev. Mr. Van Tol, who had charge of the games, had a varied and entertaining assortment of contests for the children such as peanut races, sack races, dodge ball and others. Blue and red ribbons were given to those who won first and second places in all contests.

After the games all were bountifully served with ice cream and cake and each child was given a bag of peanuts to eat on the way home.

Much credit for the success of the afternoon was due to Mrs. Graham, chairman of the committee in charge, and the Rev. Mr. Van Tol and the Rev. Mr. Smith for their enthusiastic help. Before going home the children showed their appreciation by a rousing cheer for the P-T. A.

THE CHAIN PRAYER FARE AGAIN ANNOYING RECIPIENTS.

The chain prayer, with its blessings to those who multiply the links in the chain and its curse upon those who neglect to send out 13 copies, is again passing through our busy midst, so to speak, and an anxious recipient wants to know what about it. The answer is that eminent clergymen of all sects have repeatedly denounced this fake of superstitions or malicious zealots and busybodies who circulate it. Refrain from becoming another pest by passing no attention to the chain prayer, fake.

Motorists Begin Rush for Licenses

To be within the law chauffeurs and operators of motor vehicles must have obtained their license this week to run until July 1, 1929. The last day is Saturday, June 30. The annual last week rush for licenses set in this morning and at 9 a. m. there were 50 men and women in the local motor vehicle bureau on Fair street applying for licenses and all day there was an average of 30 of those who make it a rule to wait until the last minute and lose more or less time because of neglect, waiting the approval of their applications. As has been stated before the state motor vehicle bureau has made an estimate that there are 20,000 operators in the county and 15,000 chauffeurs. Up to noon today about 16,000 operator's licenses had been issued and about 5,000 chauffeur's licenses.

MISS EARHART BUYS MOTH PLANE AFTER TRIP

London, June 25 (P).—Miss Earhart has a new plaything today—a moth plane in which she will fly in the United States. Miss Earhart has determined to show Europe that, although she did not handle the controls of the Friendship on its historic flight, she could pilot a plane. Unknown to her hostess and backer, Mrs. Frederick Guest, she stole away to Gordon and flew a moth plane for more than an hour.

Because she had no British flying license, the American girl had to go up in a dual control machine with a British pilot beside her. Once in the air, however, she did all the flying. She bought the plane when she landed.

PORT EWEN

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Parrington, son and daughter of Westfield, N. J., were Sunday guests of James Prudden and family. Their mother, Mrs. Prudden, accompanied them back to the city.

FORTY OHIO VOTES FOR GOVERNOR SMITH

With the Ohio Delegation. En Route to Houston, at Longview, Texas, June 25 (P).—Speeding southward, the Ohio delegation to the Democratic National Convention has indicated its readiness to deliver approximately forty of its forty-eight votes to Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York on the first ballot if that number will place him within striking distance of the presidential nomination.

SAUGERTIES RESIDENTS SEE MOVIE-TONE RECORDER

A truck of the Fox Movie-Tone News Corporation visited Saugerties Friday and was examined by a number of residents, who found much to interest them in the truck. Kenneth Styles, of the film concern, brought the truck to Saugerties when he visited his sister, Miss Mildred Styles, of Bridge street. He is on his way to Syracuse, where he will "shoot" scenes and record speeches at an athletic event.

Dances at Saugerties.

The opening dance of the summer season will be held at Fisher's Hall, Saugerties, tonight. These dances will be held every Monday evening. Music will be furnished by Brunswick Five. Free buses will leave the Central Post Office at 5:30.

Shokan Supper.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will serve a supper in the church hall on Wednesday evening, June 27. Supper will be served from 5:30, daylight saving time until all are served.

26 GRADUATES OF THE SAUGERTIES HIGH SCHOOL.

The Saugerties High School graduates number 26 this year. Edwin Nolan is the salutatorian. Florence Naudain, valedictorian and Patricia Hatch second valedictorian. An unusual feature of this year's class is that six of the graduates are sisters. Dora and Cora Smith, Dorothy and Beatrice Keefe, and Lillian and Louise Ransom.

Saugerties Ladies Aid Beneficence.

The Saugerties Auxiliary of the Beneficence Hospital will hold a strawberry festival on the lawn of Mrs. H. J. Schroeder, Barclay Heights, Saugerties, Tuesday, June 26, from 6 until 9 p. m. Strawberries and cake will be served by the ladies.

M. E. Ladies' Outing.

The King's Daughters of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will hold an all-day's outing at Willow on June 27. The ladies of the Willow Church will serve a chicken dinner. Buses will leave the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church at 10 a. m.

Saugerties Fireworks.

There will be a fireworks display on the Athletic Field at Saugerties on July 4. The fireworks will be set off at the place named instead of on Bennett avenue, as was first suggested, because the latter place could not accommodate the crowd expected to turn out for the event.

Card Party Tonight.

The past commanders of the Shepherds of Bethlehem, No. 25, will hold a card party tonight at the home of Mrs. Ellsworth, 575 Broadway. Playing will begin at 8:30. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. The public is invited.

26 Made Priests at Mt. St. Alphonsus

Cardinal Hayes Consecrates Deacons at Impressive Ceremonies at Esopus—Beautiful and Spacious Chapel Filled With Friends.

Patrick Cardinal Hayes of the Archdiocese of New York consecrated 26 men priests of the Roman Catholic Church at a Mass of ordination celebrated in the chapel of the Redemptorist Community, Mount St. Alphonsus, Esopus, Sunday morning. A large number, including many Kingston people, who filled the beautiful and spacious chapel, witnessed the ceremony.

The ceremony started at 7:30 Sunday morning when the deacons to be made priests marched from the bishop's room in the monastery to the sanctuary of the chapel, carrying a candle and garbed in the robes of their station. They carried on their right arm the chasuble, with which they were vested by His Eminence during the ordination ceremony.

The Mass of ordination, consisting of the anointing of the hands, conferring vestments, presentation of sacred vessels including a chalice, the placing of a missal before each one, the bestowing of the power to forgive sins, the newly-ordained priests' promise of obedience, and the recitation of the Eucharistic prayer, lasted several hours.

A very impressive ceremony was the Mass of ordination which was the first in memory for the friends of the men made priests of the church on the occasion. The beauty of the chapel and the decorations added much to the impressiveness of the service, which was also marked by the singing of the Mt. St. Alphonsus choir.

A large number of those in attendance at the Mass received Holy Communion from the hands of the Cardinal, who also gave his blessing. Each one of the 26 priests ordained at the Mass gave his first blessing to relatives and friends after the Mass.

Breakfast was served at the monastery to the invited guests of the newly ordained priests. Small talk often stirred up big trouble.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—Otto H. Kahn, international banker, who has his own links, finds bridge almost as good a health builder as golf. His guests say they would rather play him on the links than at bridge.

London—The highest-salaried newspaper worker in the world will retire after this year. David Lloyd George, who has been earning around $100,000 a year as a journalist, will cease writing and seek to lead the Liberal Party out of its slump at the next general election.

Orangeburg, N. Y.—The cauliflower brigade in Gus Wilson's stable of fighters attends a Bible class conducted here by one of its members. Harold De Vane, who teaches a class in John D. Rockefeller's Park Avenue Baptist Sunday school when in New York. He hopes to earn enough in the ring to finance a medical education.

New York—Two king cobras are en route from India to the New York City Zoo to supply poison for experiments by a physician who hopes to find a cure for certain nervous disorders. The king cobra's poison causes almost instant death. There is no known cure.

Apia, British Samoa—The South Seas' Jack-in-the-box island is up again, bigger than ever, growing every day, and subject to the claim of any land-hungry nation. Falcon Isle has twice sunk and risen again since it was first charted 53 years ago.

New York—A camera invented by a policeman automatically takes a picture of a thief in action and aids in his apprehension. When an intruder put his hand in the poor box of a Bronx church fitted with the device he caused a flashlight explosion. A buzzer summoned a priest. The thief, captured, confessed when confronted with his photograph.

Dortmund, Germany—A husky German girl is likely to make Americans do wonders in order to win the Olympic shotput. Fraulein Huebeler's heave of 38 feet, 10 1/2 inches is a new record.

Rome—Shades of Julius Caesar! Another Roman has conquered all Europe. Jacovacci of Rome is now the continent's champion middle-weight fighter.

Pittman, N. J.—The Rev. David H. Schock, 89, retired 20 years, is going to summer school at Drew Theological Seminary for the eighth successive year to study the Bible. "I would like to go to school as long as I live," he explained. "A man's education should never end."

Mansfield, O.—An automobile accident has taken some of the bloom from "Peaches" Mrs. Browning suffered lacerations and shock when the car driven by her manager, Edgar Allen, overturned. Her mother also was bruised and Allen suffered a broken rib.

THE THING I MISS

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

A THING I miss
As I grow old,
A thing I miss
I've never told.
But once when I
Had found my street,
I heard the sound
Of running feet,
I heard a laugh,
A baby's call,
The thing I miss
The most of all.

She's now too big,
She's much too wise,
A daughter's love
To advertise,
And so I find
My way alone,
Along the street,
Up steps of stone.
I see the light,
I reach the door,
But, oh, I long
For something more.

My hair is gray,
So I've been told,
But it's not that
That makes me old.
I wish some night
I'd hear again
The call I heard
So often then.
A sound of feet,
A daughter's kiss—
Oh, that's the thing,
The thing I miss.

Mother's Cook Book

A man has two creators: his God and himself; his first Creator furnishes him with raw materials for his life and the laws in conformity with which he can make that life what he will. His second creator, himself, has marvelous powers he rarely realizes. It is what a man makes of himself that counts.—William George Jordan.

A FEW EVERYDAY FOODS

EVERYDAY foods are the most important, so we should see to it that they are attractive and well served.

Kidney With Mushroom.
Brown a tablespoonful of butter, add a tablespoonful of flour, then one cupful of brown stock, salt, paprika and cayenne to taste, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and one-half cupful of mushrooms cut into slices. Add the kidneys, which have been parboiled, cook until well heated through and serve.

One may dry or pickle or can mushrooms in their season, thus having them when out of season or too expensive.

Farina Spoon Bread.
Take two cupfuls of cooked farina; add two well-beaten egg yolks and a cupful of milk, one cupful of white corn meal, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt. Mix well and fold in the stiffly beaten white. Pour into a well-buttered baking dish and bake forty minutes. Serve from the dish.

Coconut Meal Pudding.
Take two tablespoonfuls of corn meal, one of tapioca and one of coconut, salt to season and one-fourth cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of molasses, one pint of milk. Mix well and bake slowly two hours. Serve warm with cream.

Sweet Sandwiches.
Chop fine one-half cupful each of candied cherries, pineapple and crystallized orange peel. Add three-fourths of a cupful of blanched almonds, moisten with orange marmalade. Use as a filling for Boston brown bread. Shape the rounds with a small cookie cutter or slice thin when steamed in small baking powder tins. Garnish with a maraschino cherry on top of each. Serve with tea or cocoa.

Take the coarser stalks of celery, cut into dice and cook until tender. Serve with white sauce and cheese as an escalloped dish.

Voice of Experience

"My dear child," said a woman to a young unmarried acquaintance, "you must realize that when one loves, it should be for life. I know what I'm talking about, my dear—I've been married three times."

38 Graduates of St. Mary's School

Diplomas were awarded 38 graduates, 21 girls and 17 boys, of St. Mary's School by the pastor of the parish, the Very Rev. Joseph E. Scully, Sunday afternoon in the school hall, when the closing and graduating exercises were held. In giving out the diplomas Father Scully reminded the children of the advantages of higher education being offered and urged them to continue in an advanced institution.

The awarding of the diplomas took place after the exhibition given by the children, which manifested the patience their teachers, the good nuns, took in giving the little ones the best of training. The large number of parents and friends of the children, who crowded the hall, enjoyed the program very much. St. Mary's graduates of 1928 are as follows:

Boys.
Edwin P. Ashdown, James J. Brennan, William F. Bruck, James E. Cullum, Donald V. Dempsey, John T. Heffernan, George C. Hizen, John P. Hyland, Philip S. Kelly, Albert J. Keresman, Edward S. Krayem, Joseph A. Mahar, Frank J. McCloskey, James E. Murphy, Nicholas M. Murphy, Paul L. Otto, James F. Woods.

Girls.
Genevieve M. Arnold, Catherine L. Braze, Elizabeth M. Brennan, Marion R. Carroll, Rose M. Deegan, Agnes D. Gorman, Anna E. Hussey, Mary K. Jenks, Irene E. Herrick, Margaret M. Larkin, Anna D. Lenihan, Justina H. Long, Rita C. McAndrew, Angela R. Mulhare, Helen M. Murray, Mary R. Needham, Ella F. Ryan, Eulalia E. Sangaline, Alice F. Shuler, Marie A. Ward, Alice F. Winkler.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

Why Paints Discolor

Laboratory officials who have made a study of this problem maintain that the paint discoloration is usually found on houses built in late summer, fall or winter, particularly in cases where the woodwork has accumulated excessive moisture from some source. Plastering in cold weather, it is claimed, accounts for many cases of paint discoloration. Part of the moisture evaporated from the plaster condenses on the back of the siding wood and sooner or later passes through the siding to the under layer of the paint film. Experience indicates that in houses which have been thoroughly dried out before painting this condensation of moisture and the consequent blistering and discoloration of paint on the outside of the building are usually avoided.

Dr. J. M. Dodson, former dean of the school of medicine of the University of Chicago, has recently completed a study of longevity according to occupational classes. The life span of the average citizen, he finds, is approximately 47 years. The coal miner, whose occupation is generally considered extra hazardous, may expect to live 51.3 years, and the doctor, whose hours are long and irregular and who is exposed to contagious disease, may expect to live 62 years. The bookkeeper, on the other hand, who lives a sheltered, regular, routine life, has an average span of but 36.5 years. Apparently boredom and monotony have more to do with cutting the life span than occupational hazard.

The Reappearance of Purple for Bath Day and Night Offers a Note of Vivid Interest—Reds, Blues, and Greens—Are Never Absent From the Smart Setting.

New York—Since the "purple" passed over the United States, every woman who wears it is a color she wears it with a note of interest. During the spring opening, and then when it was first introduced, it was a point of it, and has been followed.

There is something always elegant and sometimes a bit formal about purple. It is no longer regarded as a shade that should be left to maturity. Young and old wear it, and because youth is more daring than age, the young wear it with more enthusiasm than the old, just as they wear black.

There are certain women who maintain that black should only be worn by the young. "I am too old to wear black," is the feeling of one woman who realizes the influence of black on a fading skin. Of course, every one cannot wear purple, but what complexion lacks may be easily supplied, and when purple is becoming, it is certainly wholeheartedly so.

It is much too early for the average woman to be excited over possible entries for fall favor, but not too early to mention that reds and purples appear to color the future and are not neglected in the colorful present. Off shades, even off-white, seem to be the present preference, this applying to both greens and blues, which seem to contrive to blend so harmoniously that one is puzzled to know where green begins and blue ends, or the other way about.

There are red purples as well as blue purples, and they are used for day as well as evening. It may be recalled that Vionnet found a purple shade lively enough for an evening gown in a season when so many black ones were the rage.

JACOBS TO CONDUCT
SCHOOL AT WOODSTOCK

Considerable interest has been manifested in the fact that Michel Jacobs of New York city, the internationally famous landscape and portrait painter, is to conduct outdoor classes in Landscape Painting at Woodstock this summer, from July 2 to September 1.

Mr. Jacobs, who is the founder and in personal charge of the activities of the Metropolitan Art School of New York, will paint with the students, teaching a practical application of the color system, and of Dynamic Symmetry.

Color, skillfully used, is recognized everywhere as an indispensable aid to health and mental poise. Mr. Jacobs has evolved a new system of color which has been adopted by some of America's noted painters, and is considered to have a strong influence on American art of the present day. His system of color was adopted by the War Department and is still in use by the Army and Navy.

STUDYING QUALITY OF BABY FOODS

General, N. Y., June 25.—Studies of the sanitary qualities of the principal baby foods found on the markets of this state have been started at the Experiment Station here under the direction of G. J. Hucker, associate bacteriologist, due to the increasing use of these materials and the policy of the station to keep the public informed as to the sanitary quality of all dairy and allied products.

"There is every reason to believe that the quality of baby foods appearing on New York Markets is of the highest type," says Dr. Hucker. "However, the station is anxious to cooperate with the manufacturer of infant foods in order to protect the public, as well as honest producers, from unscrupulous manufacturers."

Demand High Standards.

Powdered and variously prepared baby foods have come to be used almost universally in recent years, and mothers are anxious to know if the desired high standards for such products are being maintained by the manufacturers, says this authority. The station tests are expected to reveal the sanitary qualities of the principal baby foods sold in this state.

The station bacteriologists believe that the same sanitary standards should be applied to the manufacture of baby foods as those in vogue in dairies producing milk to be used for infants. Dairymen have been put to considerable effort and expense to furnish mothers with a wholesome milk of high sanitary quality and physicians should not be allowed to prescribe modifiers which may contain large numbers of bacteria to meet the needs of the individual likes and dislikes of babies, declare these specialists. Manufacturers of baby foods realize this situation and are cooperating in every way with the station bacteriologists in determining methods whereby their products may be improved and the numbers of bacteria found in the product reduced to a minimum.

OLIVE BRIDGE.

Olive Bridge, June 25.—Those who attend High School at Kingston are home for the summer vacation.

Miss Camilla Davis is working at William Colange's this summer.

Edwin Gessner of Olive Bridge has the contract to install plumbing and heating in the farm house on Tonche mountain, which was recently bought by Raymond Pitrean.

O. O. Rice is home after spending some time at summer school.

L. B. Davis and family were at the firemen's parade at Kingston on Thursday last.

John Marshall has had an infected finger but is some better at this writing.

Miss Edna Gessner is spending some time with her grandparents at Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Christensen is spending some time here.

How body odor almost ruined my career

I WAS selling on the road when the good news came. An inside job—opportunity—direct contact every day with the big boss.

"Everything went fine on my first day—until the chief called me into his office. He smiled a cordial welcome and asked for some figures. But when I leaned over his desk to show them to him he suddenly drew back. Without saying another word, he briefly dismissed me.

"Several days went by. Nothing new from the chief. It was rumored I was going on the road again. I couldn't understand.

I learned the truth

"Miserably worried I told my sister the whole story. And then came the shock that was to save me from business disaster.

"Ed, I know what the whole trouble is. I noticed it at the dance the other night. It may hurt you—but I am going to tell you to your face what I am sure others are saying behind your back."

"And then she told me the real truth... body odor!"

No one is safe from body odor

Body odor is treacherous—it hurts us without our knowing it. Sets us back socially and in business in a humiliating way. And we cannot tell when we offend—because our own sense of smell becomes deadened to a familiar odor.

It's natural to perspire. It's healthful. Even in cool weather we perspire about a quart of odor-causing waste a day, doctors say. In addition, extreme heat, emotion or nervousness may cause excessive perspiration. Thus any one of us may be guilty unless we take care.

Purifying the pores

For all-day freshness—for bath-to-bath safety and confidence—use Lifebuoy Health Soap. You'll revel in its gloriously abundant lather. This pleasant antiseptic lather deeply deodorizes the pores. It prevents body odor not by neutralizing the odor—not by substituting another for it—but by purifying the pores.

Healthier complexions, too

This same bland, antiseptic Lifebuoy lather also purifies face pores—keeping complexions smooth, clear and glowingly fresh. Guards health, too—by removing germs.

You'll learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you it purifies, and which vanishes as you rinse. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

Commencement of
Lutheran School

The twelfth annual school closing and commencement exercises of the Livingston Street Lutheran School will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the church hall. The pupils of the eighth grade, who all successfully passed the state Regents' examinations, will receive their diplomas. They are Carl Nickerson, August Wiedemann, Elizabeth Osterman, Harold Buddenhagen, Harry Studt, Charlotte Hahn, Lawrence Lindhorst and Charles Witzhoff.

The commencement address will be delivered by the Rev. O. C. Buss of Schenectady, N. Y., who will speak on "Christian Education." The diplomas will be presented by the pastor of the church, the Rev. E. L. Witte. The salutatory will be given by A. Wiedemann; the class motto, by H. Studt; the class colors, by E. Osterman; the class flower, by C. Hahn; the class poem, by C. Witzhoff and L. Lindhorst; and the valedictory by C. Nickerson.

All the pupils of the church day school will participate in a program presented under the direction of the two teachers, George Weil and A. F. Graep. The orchestra, under the direction of Gust Koch, will render several selections. At the close of the program refreshments will be served.

OLIVE BRIDGE ENTERTAINMENT TO HAVE VARIED PROGRAM

The people of Olive Bridge and vicinity are looking forward to the entertainment to be given in the Odd Fellows Hall this Thursday evening at 7:30, standard time, by talent from Stone Ridge and Atwood. A varied program has been prepared. There will be a mixed chorus, which will render an inspiring number, a double male quartet, which will entertain with humorous and other selections, an instrumental duet or two, vocal duets and solos, and that which is expected to be a leading feature of the program—comedy monologues by two of the premier entertainers of this section, Ross Osterhout and Charles Gerwin. Admission will include a liberal helping of ice cream and cake, according to the refreshment committee. The proceeds will be added to the building fund for the proposed Atwood Community Social Hall.

Gives Demonstration of Pumper.

A demonstration was made on Saturday afternoon under the direction of W. G. Haines, manager of the Mack Motor Trucks Sales, 23 South Manor avenue, of a 1,000-gallon Mack motor pumper at the Rondout creek, on the dock at the rear of the J. Forst Packing Company's plant. The demonstration was witnessed by city officials and members of the board of fire commissioners and it is said was very satisfactory. An additional pumping apparatus has been recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters to be added to the local equipment.

Boy Scout Camp
Second to None

The Ulster County Council, Boy Scouts of America, propose to conduct a camp second to none in the county as regards high ideals, program and personnel. It seeks to follow the spirit of the Scout oath which embraces a boy's duty to God, to others and to self. There is not a meal without the Father's blessing. Sunday is observed with programs appropriate for the day. Provision is made for Protestant, Catholic and Jewish boys to attend the services of their respective faiths. A vesper service will be held each Sunday afternoon at which time some prominent man will deliver an appropriate message.

While the camp is intended primarily for the Boy Scouts of Ulster county, boys not Scouts may attend. The age limit is flexible. All boys are expected to accept and follow the Scout program.

Safety All the Time.

Particular emphasis is placed upon safety. Indeed the slogan is safety first, last and all the time. There is no promiscuous swimming. No boy is allowed to go into the water excepting at the regular periods. These provide ample time for water activities. One special piece of equipment which in the past has proven of great value is the 12x25 foot swimming crib in which the boys learn to swim. They are not allowed to swim outside of this until they have passed a swimming test. The bottom is made of 2x4 covered with boards. The sides are slats. This is ideal for beginners in swimming.

To make the water program especially safe, three checking systems are used as follows: First, the "Buddy System" which as the name implies, provides that two boys go into the water together and at stated intervals report only when each boy has the other by the hand. Second, each boy is given a number on arrival at camp. The roll is called by giving this number. On entering the water the boy finds a disc which is white on one side and red on the other with his number on each side. The white side is always turned out unless he is in the water at which time the red side is displayed. The third system requires that each boy call his number to a "checker" who enters it on the check sheet both on entering and leaving the water.

Best Food Obtainable.

The boys are provided liberally with the best food obtainable. This food is prepared by an experienced chef. Camp Miknakawa is fortunate in having W. M. Wiseman as its chef again this season.

Special emphasis will be placed upon Scout advancement by providing instruction and tests in the various Scout requirements. A. C. Borrell, the assistant having charge of the water front, is an Eagle Scout and will give instruction along this line also. Plans are being made to conduct a Court of Honor at the camp.

Campers are required to deposit their spending money in the camp bank. A simple checking system will cover all transactions. Boys are allowed to spend only 15 cents per day at the store or canteen.

The Daily Program.

In order that parents may know where the boys are at any hour of the day, the daily program follows:

6:40 First call—Wake up.
6:50 Reville—Get up into bathing suit—Zip!
6:55 Assembly—Setting-up exercises.
7:00 Whistle signal—Morning dip (voluntary). OH-O-O-O!
7:05 Recall—All out—Dress. K. P. report.
7:20 Assembly—Roll call—Health reports—Flag raising—March to mess hall.
7:34 Mess call—Breakfast—and free time.
8:15 Fatigue call—Details—Police camp, blankets out for sunning if fair, otherwise rolled at foot of cot; tents put in good condition.
8:45 Recall—Camp service ends—Prepare for Scouting instruction and activities.
8:50 Scouts' call—Scoutcraft instruction and exams.
10:15 Recall, instruction period ends. Free time, during which complete preparations for tent inspection.
10:45 Whistle call—Tent inspection.

Heat Regulation for Successful Cooking

Heat Regulation for Successful Cooking

With what perplexity the young cook views such directions as "bake in a hot oven until done"; "cook at moderate heat until brown"! When is the oven hot? When is it moderate? Will the result of the favorite dish attempted bring disappointment and tears?

If a modern gas range with oven heat regulator is part of the kitchen equipment, success will crown every culinary effort. For the regulator allows the heat to be set at the desired temperature and retained at that point until the food is done to the proper tempting deliciousness. With this device whole meals can be cooked in the oven without attention while the woman is free to do other things.

We have many models and sizes on display on our sales floor.

Colonials Win Opening Game

The newly-organized Colonial A. C. made a good opening in their opening game by defeating the Clermonts 4-1 before a fair size assemblage at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon. The first inning was the opening period for the Colonials after which the scoring ceased. Joe Huston of Pawtucket did good work for the winners. He had his hardest struggle of the tilt in the fourth and fifth innings. He allowed the Clermonts to load the bases in the fourth that netted them one run. In the fifth innings he looked serious when the Colonials' opponents loaded the bases with one down, but the Clermonts were held tight and could not score.

Luke Mathela went well until the fifth inning when he allowed the colonials to cross the plate three times, adding to the one tally they collected in the second. In this frame he walked a couple of men and allowed two hits, which did the trick. He was relieved by Jack Dunn, who allowed but two hits for the remainder of the game.

Farrell Open Golf Champion

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—Johnny Farrell, newly crowned open golf champion of the United States at the age of 27, steps forth today to survey his kingdom, reap the $50,000 reward that goes with it and take his place as the third figure in the greatest triumvirate of shotmakers America has ever had.

The slim young Irishman with the contagious smile and the fancy sweaters beat the master marksman of this trio yesterday, Bobby Jones, king of the amateurs, in a spectacular 36-hole play-off for the championship, 143 to 144. He outstroked the other, debonaire Walter Hagen, the day before in the final half of the 72-hole competition that left him and Jones deadlocked at 294 strokes each with Hagen in a tie for fourth at 296.

Thus, out of the battle over the rugged No. 4 links of the famous Olympia Fields layout, Farrell, from what seemed a hopeless chase after his first 36 holes, came back to gain a tie as Bobby slipped and skidded on his final round. With the big chance before him in the play-off, Farrell met the final test of championship calibre.

Jones, on the last two holes, shot two successive birdies, but could not break down Farrell's morale or gain a single stroke.

SHREWD MANAGER FOR GENE TUNNEY

Billy Gibson Has Managed Fighters for Many Years.

Gene Tunney is splendidly equipped with managerial advice. He has Billy Gibson, and Gibson is one of the shrewdest men that ever handled a fighter, writes H. C. Salsinger in the Detroit News.

Gibson has managed and seconded fighters of various weights and ability for about twenty-five years. He handled Packey McFarland and made him the best lightweight of his day, although neither Battling Nelson nor Ad Wolgast would ever fight him for the title.

Gibson eventually became manager of the lightweight champion. He picked up an ambitious youngster and started schooling him. The boy began as a $5 preliminary fighter. He ended up by boxing for the largest purses ever offered for lightweights. And all the while he was managed and seconded by Gibson. The boy was Benny Leonard.

It is doubtful if Tunney could ever have reached the top without Gibson, who was probably better suited to Tunney's needs than any other man Tunney could have picked.

In the last Dempsey-Tunney fight Gibson was of inestimable value to Tunney in the seventh round.

When Tunney dropped in Dempsey's corner he tried to get up. Gibson, by that time, was on the platform, yelling madly at Tunney across the ring. Tunney heard him as he raised himself on his haunches. "Stay down! Stay down!" screamed Gibson, motioning with both hands at the same time. Tunney nodded to indicate that he understood Gibson. He sank back to the floor and he did not get up until the count of nine, Gibson all the while screaming "Take the count!"

Had Tunney banded up, as he intended to do, and followed Dempsey, as he undoubtedly would have done had he regained his feet at the time, Dempsey today might be the only champion who regained his title; the only heavyweight ruler of all time who managed to come back.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press)
The National League pennant race has fast become a chase with seven clubs vainly trying to match strides with Bill McKechnie's rampaging St. Louis Cardinals.

Old Pete Alexander took his hardest right arm to the mound at Cincinnati yesterday and pitched the Cards to a 7 to 4 victory over the Reds. It was Alex's third triumph over Jack Hendrick's men in eight days. The veteran was hit hard in the early innings but some heavy artillery work by his teammates later saved the day and enabled the Cards to lengthen their advantage over the field to five and a half games. The Reds dropped into fourth place.

Getting to Remy Kremer for six runs in the third inning, the Cubs halted the onrushing Pittsburgh Pirates at Chicago, 3 to 1. For the second day in succession Hack Wilson and Gabby Hartnett hit home runs. Art Nehf held the Corsair sluggers in check although he granted an even dozen hits. Although the standing shows the Cubs and New York Giants tied for second place, McCarthy's men actually are entitled to the runner-up position. The Cubs' average is two-tenths of a point over .522 and the Giants just that much under that figure.

The Giants lost further ground by taking a two to nothing beating from Jess Petty and the Brooklyn Robins. Backed by superlative fielding, Petty kept the Giants in subjection from start to finish, allowing only six hits. Lefty Paulkner pitched well for McGraw but was the victim of bunched hits and some erratic fielding, some of the latter by himself.

The New York Yankees stretched their margin over the American League field to eight and a half games by taking the measure of the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 0. George Pipgras turning in a three-hit performance for his 15th victory in 15 starts. Babe Ruth hit his 25th homer of the season to become 15 days, 19 games and four circuit drives up on his 1927 schedule when he eventually established a new high-water mark of 60.

Hadley outpitched George Earnshaw by a wide margin as the Senators took the Philadelphia Athletics into camp at Washington, 6 to 3. Ty Cobb's three hits, one a triple, failed to make up for Earnshaw's ineffectiveness.

George Grant was in rare form and the Cleveland Indians evened the series with the Browns at St. Louis 4 to 2. Grant gave only six hits but was in difficulty a few times because of his generosity in issuing free tickets to first base.

Detroit moved out of the cellar as Owen Carroll blanked the Chicago White Sox with seven hits, 6 to 0. After scoring a run in the fourth, the Tigers put the game on ice in the seventh with a home-run featuring by Heilmann's five-run run with two on. The Sox took possession of last place as punishment for their defeat.

BLUE SOX SCORE OVER CASTLE POINT CLUB

The Castle Point baseball club was forced to the cellar position when the nine met the Blue Sox at Hasbrouck Park Sunday afternoon and struck a snag in the hurling of Ralph Williams off whom they collected 3 runs while the Sox got to three pitchers for 13.

It looked as though the Castle Point team would do damage in the first inning when they loaded the bases by virtue of a walk and two hits. However a neat double play, Williams to Tomaseski to F. Albright and a put out by the second baseman, ended the Point's chances to score. They managed to cross the plate twice in the second inning and once in the sixth, which ended their scoring.

The Sox registered two in the first and had little trouble with the pitchers for the rest of the contest. A double by Tommy Lewis brought in the two first tallies for the Blue Sox. C. Steinhilber played a good game at second for the Blue Sox, not missing one of eight chances. He also scored one of the runs made.

Ralph Williams allowed but eight hits and fanned seven of the Castle Point men. The Blue Sox corralled 15 hits off the three opposing hurlers, who allowed seven free passes.

Jack Cassidy switched from third to short in the Sunday game and turned in a good performance there for the Blue Sox. He accepted five chances without a misplay. Tiano was the hitting ace of the Blue Sox. He collected four hits out of five trips to the plate. Prosser of the Castle Point team made the longest drive of the day, but lost out at home plate when he tried to stretch it from a triple to a circuit clout.

Yanks Can't Win Without Luck

"I know the Yanks have got the best ball club in the country, but that doesn't mean it is any cinch we are going to win." And that, fellow fans, is what the game's biggest figure, Babe Ruth, thinks about the impending American league pennant race.

The Babe takes his innermost thoughts about baseball generally, baseball fans, baseball luck and, specifically, the Yanks' chances during the coming season in an interview with Newman Bulger, the veteran sports writer, published in The Farm Journal.

"The trouble with baseball fans," observes Mr. Ruth, "is that they get so steamed up over an easy win that they forget that 50 per cent of baseball is luck. If something goes wrong the next year they start right off talking about internal dissension, and this and that player being hard to get along with, and so on. They never figure that the luck simply broke the other way."

There have been a lot of great ball clubs that have pulled up in the rack of a major league race, far behind inferior teams, simply because they didn't get that 50 per cent break of luck, if you want Mr. Ruth's opinion.

"To top the old flag," says the $70,000 beauty queen, "a ball club has not only got to be the best, but it's got to get the breaks at the right time, too."

"Did you ever think what might have happened to us last season if we hadn't got off to that runaway start and then had another long winning streak soon afterward? Just throw out those two streaks, or balance them up with average luck, and see where we would have been. Now it doesn't figure out that we are going to have such a streak again, even with the same ball players."

"I know the Yanks have got the best ball club in the country, but suppose somebody breaks a leg or one of our best pitchers goes wrong. What then?"

Incidentally, Bulger's Farm Journal article throws an interesting light on Ruth's determination to make himself better—and positively not bigger—during the season, a characteristic that has grown year by year since his comeback of three years ago.

DIAMOND PICK-UPS

Brooklyn has two of the greatest pitchers in the major leagues in Jess Petty and Dazzy Vance.

Pitcher Jim Robinson, from Macon in the Sally league, has joined the Brooklyn Robins at Cincinnati.

Visiting American league teams may enjoy the nights in New York, but the afternoons are said to be terrible.

Jimmy Reese, Oakland star who is owned by the Yankees, was once hailed as the worst infielder in the old Appalachian league.

William Dickey, tall young catcher of the New York Yankees, has been released on option to the Buffalo club of the International league.

Pitcher Charles Barnabe and Outfielder Randy Moore of the White Sox have been released on option to the Waco club of the Texas league.

Whitney Oberer, formerly of Pittsfield of the Eastern league, has been released and is playing independent ball in the outfield for Portstown, Pa.

Complaint is heard in American Association circles that the games played take up too much time, and there is a demand for speeding them up.

One critic sums it up in a few words for the Pirates when he asked what fun they would have if they only had to face their own pitching staff.

Charley Hall, who helped to pitch the St. Paul club to four American Association pennants, has played professional baseball for twenty-four years.

A resolution adopted in 1910 by the National Association of Baseball Clubs prohibits the playing of more than two games in one day by minor league teams.

Outfielder Art Weiss and Pitcher Bill Ludolph are recent additions to the Little Rock Travelers, having been obtained from the Missions of the Coast league.

Leo Casey, tired of sitting on the bench with Newark, asked for a transfer. He was then released to New Haven in the Eastern league, subject to recall at any time.

Totolo cut down on the rookie crop when it sent Guy Jones, LeRoy Parmelee and Jack Mundy to Stuffy McInnis' Salem club of the New England league on option.

Baltimore's pitching staff was increased when Dallas of the Texas league returned Pitcher Cliff Jackson, taken from the Birds just before the start of spring training.

Ernie Nevers, the great football star, has been sent to the minors by the St. Louis Browns. It seems that the big leagues weren't in the need of touchdowns just now.

In his earliest baseball days, Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn National League Baseball club, had quite a reputation as a wrestler as well as a ball player.

Five major league clubs are interested in the eighteen-year-old shortstop, Stevens, with New Haven in the Eastern league. His work has featured for New Haven this season.

Max Carey, Brooklyn outfielder, who has been tearing around the bases for 20 years, has led the National league in base thefts ten times in the past fourteen years and has been second the other four times.

There is no definite record as to who operated the first taxicab in New York city, but it is thought that Benjamin Riley was first. In 1904 he operated a French car, probably a De Dedouville.

Industrial League Game Tonight

The Columbus and Postoffice-City teams are scheduled to play at the Athletic Field tonight at 6:15. Lewis will do the pitching for the Columbus with Didick receiving. Wheeler and Newkirk will form the battery for the combination team.

LIGHTNINGS GAVE LITTLE TROUBLE TO RONDOUTS.

Jimmy Best and Art Steltz, Rondout A. C. hurlers, smoked out the Lightning A. C. of Poughkeepsie, 20-1, when the teams met at Block Park Sunday afternoon. The two allowed but three hits while the Rondouts found Gohl and Tuttle for 56 blows, several of which were good for extra sacks. Every man on the Rondout roster got a chance in the game and got at least one hit.

Krom, Leonard and Hinkley each corralled three safeties, while a number of the other players came through with two.

1885. The great Lon Meyers set a world's mark of 1 minute 53½ seconds in the half in 1885 and that stood for just ten years. On September 21, 1895, in a dual meet between the New York A. C. and Oxford and Cambridge in New York, Charles H. Kilpatrick, a Union College star, covered the distance in 1 minute 53½ seconds.

It was almost fourteen years later, September 15, 1909, that Emille Lungehl, an Italian runner touring America,

There is no more dangerous person on earth—dangerous to himself as well as to others—than the man who passes judgment and volunteers opinions without knowing the facts.

"Is it true that you have broken off your engagement?" asked Charlie, the salesman.

"No," said Clerk Tom, "I didn't break it off."

"Oh, she broke it off, then?"

Tom again shook his head.

"But it is broken off, isn't it?"

"Oh, yes. She told me what her millinery bill was and I told her how much I got a week. Then our engagement just sagged in the middle and gently faded out."

The other day I read two obituaries of men I had known well in their day. The stories were short—when they came into the world and when they departed; when they lived here and there and the number of relatives each left to mourn a loss. In neither case was the story told. One man had gone through life with a smile on his lips and a kind word for all. He died poor.

The other had been a bulldozer and tightfisted. He had exacted his pound of flesh in every business deal and the moan of the orphan and pleading of the widow failed to soften his stony heart. He left a pile in the bank. The man who smiled and helped humanity had made money, but it was of interest to him only in that he could use it in scattering sunshine and showing his family a good time. He left goodly insurance and a reputation that will stand with his modest monument in the village cemetery. The other toiled and slaved and raised his family in penury and fear of his wrath. He had pulled his load of gold to the edge of the grave and had to let go.

Those who follow him will grow sleek and fat in the sunshine of his money. Of him the neighbors say: "It won't take long for the boys to spend the old tightwad's money." Of the other they remark: "Too bad; he was a mighty good man."

A Texas frontiersman came into camp riding an old mule.

"How much for the mule?" asked a bystander.

"Just a hundred dollars," answered the rider.

"I'll give you five dollars," said the other.

The rider stopped short, as if in amazement, and then slowly dismounted. "Stranger," said he, "I ain't a-goin' to let a little matter of ninety-five dollars stand between me and a mule trade. The mule's yours."

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception was perfect all day Sunday. In the evening the 9 o'clock local interference set in promptly, continued for a half hour and was renewed at 10, greatly marring the Atwater Kent and Goldman Band programs. The best DX stations were WTAM, WSAL, WJR and WGN.

The worst part of all is the television experiment of WGY. Fortunately they are not put on very often and do not last long. They make a most disagreeable noise and spread widely.

Reception this morning was clear and strong.

Why Folks Like to Dance

"Why do you tap your foot to the rhythm of a snappy tune or have a desire to keep time with an imaginary baton in your hand?" asks Capper's Weekly. "Music," it points out, "affects the nerves of the arms and legs because these nerves have their center in the base of the brain where the auditory nerves are placed. So it isn't a sin after all to want to 'shake a foot' as our grandmothers used to think; we were just made that way."

Why Pullman Car Names

The unique names given to Pullman cars are the result of necessity. When first constructed in 1865 it was planned to give them letters, but they soon ran out of letters. Fearing confusion if numbers were used, names were adopted.

WHY Birth Control Makes for "Bad" Children

Child life reduction in the United States has failed to cause an increase in children's good manners, according to an investigator writing for the American Magazine.

Concentration of attention on one child—the one child—whereas, three children shared attention in the past, has caused that one child to be talked about more, and has caused him to talk more of himself, the writer finds.

"Perhaps the fact that children are more of a rarity than they used to be accounts for the omnipresent propensities of those that now exist," says the writer.

"The fewer the children are, the more they are talked about. And I have noticed that their bad manners increase as their numbers decrease. Children now are allowed to develop their own individuality at the expense of other people's comfort."

Parents are blamed for the development of annoying characteristics in their child. "They don't say a word against many things now. If they do express an opinion the children ask them how they get that way. If the child is father of the man there are signs that the coming man is going to be a very disagreeable person."

Senator a Congressman

It is absolutely correct to speak of a United States senator as a congressman. The congress of the United States consists of two bodies—the senate and the house of representatives—and members of both are equally members of the congress. The correct designation of a house member is representative.

Exercises at St. Peter's Tonight

Tonight at 8 o'clock the exercises will be raised for the presentation of one of the finest entertainments ever given by St. Peter's School on the end of the year. Under the able direction of the good Sisters of Christian Charity, all have been well trained and judging from the dress rehearsal this morning it is felt the presentation will be a great success.

The class of 1924 will be presented when the children are dressed acting. Several prizes donated by friends and associations of the school will be awarded the graduates and honor pupils of the remaining classes.

The following is the program for the entertainment: My Grandpa—Boys of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades. Dixie Boys—4th grade. The Jolly Shoemaker—Boys of the 5th grade. Little Housekeepers—Girls of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades. The Ghost in the Boarding School—Girls of the 5th and 7th grades. All Aboard—Grades 5 and 6. The Trumpeter—Grades 6 and 7. Trumpet calls (back stage). Joseph Shuler.

Valedictory—Girard De Veau. Address to the Graduates—Rev. Martin T. Luddy, C. S. R.

Awarding of diplomas, gold medal and premiums—Rev. John P. Neumann.

Accompaniment during this entertainment is kindly furnished by Professor John B. Schwalbach.

The Graduates.

The following are the members of the class of 1924: Raymond E. Avery, Edward N. Brach, Francis E. Clarke, Girard S. De Veau, Henry J. Houghtaling, Edwin J. Kelsch, Joseph W. Lake, Samuel Z. PAVEMENTS CUT MOTORING COSTS

Tests Made at Washington College to Find Wear on Tires Over Roads.

More miles to the gallon of gas, less wear and tear on tires and a minimum of mechanical depreciation are the benefits gained by motorists who use well-paved roads according to tests conducted by engineering schools, automobile clubs and government highway experts.

Wear on Tires.

Washington State college, in a test to determine the rate of wear on tires over various types of road surface, discovered that the average tire will go more than six times as far on concrete as on an ordinary macadam.

The test results were tabulated, showing the average distance traveled before failure of the type of tire, under constant load and speed, on four kinds of road.

Macadam ..... 5,500 miles
Good gravel ..... 6,500 miles
Bituminous macadam ..... 10,000 miles
Concrete ..... 30,000 miles

Gas Consumption.

Gasoline consumption tests conducted by a motor-car manufacturer gave the following mileage per gallon seven types of road:

Earth ..... 5.75
Fair gravel ..... 7.19
Good gravel ..... 8.25
Fair bituminous macadam ..... 9.48
Fair brick ..... 9.88
Good brick ..... 11.44
Concrete ..... 11.78

The pull required to move one ton on ordinary earth and gravel roads was shown by the University of California tests, to be very nearly ten times as much as on concrete. Tire wear and mechanical depreciation were found to be greatly reduced in driving over smooth, hard concrete.

Great Britain Resents Display of U. S. Cars

Not so many years ago British motor car makers were inclined to look deprecatingly upon the appearance qualities of the American automobile.

Today that situation has been reversed. Authority for the statement is found in remarks made before the metropolitan section of the Society of Automotive Engineers by A. E. P. Phillips, an officer of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Trades, of London.

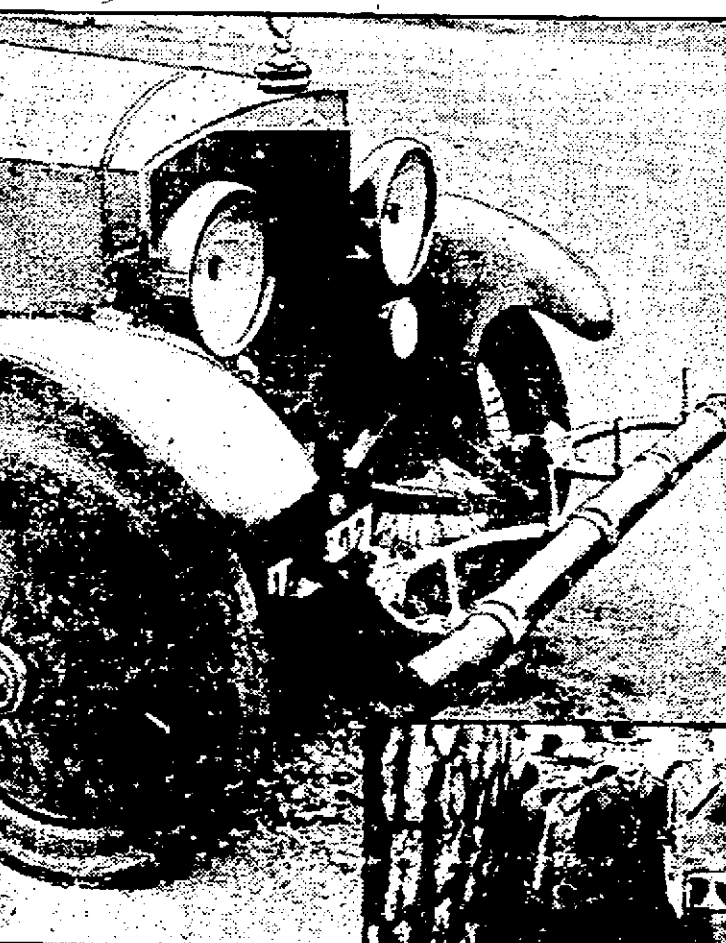

"You beat us all hollow in the matter of appearance," Mr. Phillips declared. "There is no question of it, and they are feeling that very much in England."

Old Tire Casings Used as Sandals in Mexico

Greek peasants and poorer Mexican workers are finding a new use for old American tires. The Greeks have substituted rubber for the laced strip of leather which formerly composed the telariki of the villagers.

According to advices received by the Department of Commerce, at least 50,000 casings are being imported yearly by Greece, while Mexico is less dependent upon outside sources on account of the availability of used casings produced on a small scale in their own country.

TEST NEW AUTOMOBILE SAFETY DEVICE

An interesting invention was successfully tested in Berlin. It consists of a safety bar of rubber fixed to the front of the car, which, owing to its elastic qualities, is capable of weakening the shock of a collision even though the car is traveling at a fair rate of speed.

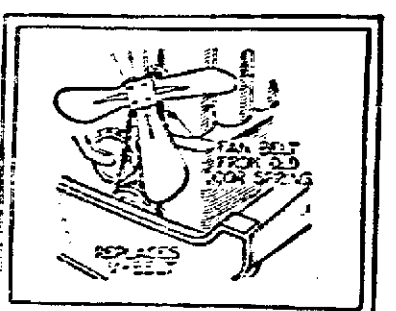

The photo shows (upper)—The front of a car with the new safety device and (lower) a car which ran against a tree at a speed of 15 miles per hour. Thanks to the new safety device the car remained undamaged.

Doing One's Best

No man is without some quality by the due application of which he might deserve well of the world; and whoever he be that has but little in his power should be in haste to do that little, lest he be confounded with him that can do nothing.—Johnson.

Make Screen Door Spring Serve in an Emergency

While the only proper thing to do with a worn-out door spring is to replace it with a new one, you can make a screen door spring serve in an emergency, as shown in the illustration. The springs may be hooked together to take the place of a very long spring of course it is advisable to replace

An Old Screen Door Spring Connected to the Ends Will Operate the Fan Until You Can Replace a Worn-Out One.

The spring belt with a regular leather belt at the earliest opportunity, as the spring belt will wear a groove in the pulley if used for any length of time and the groove will cause excessive wear on the new leather or composition rubber belt when you eventually fit it.—Popular Science Monthly.

"Shoo Fly, Don't Bother Me," Autoist Now Says

The annoyance of having bugs fly into the open windows of automobiles while driving through the country will be a thing of the past, according to a resident of Baltimore, who has just received his papers from the patent office on an invention for screens for auto windows.

Bugs have not only been annoying to the motorists, but have been the cause of serious accidents by flying through the windshield and either biting or destroying the vision of the driver.

This new device is designed to keep out the very smallest objects that fly through the air. The screens on all windows are worked by the same lever that opens and closes the glass window and is operated in a way that when the window goes down the screen fills the open space.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

The annual blowout and detour season is at hand. Burning or warping because of improper adjustment is the most frequent cause for replacement of motor valves.

In New York state alone it is expected that the amount of money invested in automobiles by the end of 1923 will run close to $1,900,000,000.

The wild automobile driver who keeps his foot on the accelerator is protected more or less by the wise locomotive engineer whose hand never leaves the throttle. Engine sluggishness may be traceable to a defective ignition coil. A new coil frequently increases not only power, speed and pick-up, but gasoline mileage as well.

Camp Happyland To Open July 5

Camp Happyland, the Ulster County Health Camp at Maple Hill, in the town of Rosendale, which is conducted under the auspices of the Ulster County Commission on Tuberculosis and Public Health, will re-open for the season on July 5.

Camp Happyland is maintained by the sale of Christmas seals, and in 1922, the first year it was in operation, 45 children were taken care of during the entire camp period, July and August. The total gain in weight of all these children in the two months of their stay at Camp Happyland was 176 pounds. Now there is a difference in the value of pounds of flesh. These children returning home, carry with them certain imperishable things—better than flesh. They carry good health habits, obedience to law, enjoyment of proper food, love of life in the open air, and the knowledge of how to live happily with other children.

Camp Happyland is in charge of a graduate nurse, and recreation director, who will come to the camp from the Sargent School of Physical Training in Cambridge.

The purpose of the camp is to give special care to children between the ages of 5 and 12, who show on examination that they are below par physically and would be benefited by the camp routine, to teach health habits and correct maintenance.

Children may be referred for admission to the camp by any interested person but they will be admitted only upon recommendation of the examining physician and in conformity to the camp regulations. Further information will be given by communicating with the county nurse, Lillian B. Hagelweide, 74 John street, Kingston, N. Y. Phone 1706-W.

CONCERT WEDNESDAY AT RONDOUT PRESBYTERIAN

Sunday morning the Crusade Union Boy Singers rendered a selection at the morning service in the Rondout Presbyterian Church and Ben Yoss, the tenor soloist of the organization, sang a solo. Later they also sang at Trinity M. E. Church. Wednesday evening the boys will give a concert in the Rondout Presbyterian Church to which the public is invited. There will be no admission but a free will offering will be taken.
